*Juvenile Detention Alternative Initiative (JDAI)
 Innovations Funding (Right Path Program)*

The Right Path Program is a suspension prevention/diversion strategy offered to middle and high school students in Sussex County. The goal of the program is to break the cycle of the “school to prison” pipeline by providing a programmatic alternative to school suspensions. Services include providing an assessment and identification of problematic behavior(s) as well as referrals to community service providers.

ACP provides survivors of domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking, reproductive health patients and providers with a legal substitute address to use when interacting with all state and local government agencies. The intent of the ACP is to protect the location of a survivor's physical address (residential, work and/or school) as part of a comprehensive plan to reduce the risk of future harm. DASI has advocates certified as ACP Application Assistants who can assist with a survivor's enrollment and safety-planning.

A displaced homemaker is defined as an individual who has not worked in the labor force for a substantial number of years but has, during those years, worked in the home providing unpaid services for family members and has been dependent upon the income of another family member but is no longer supported by that income and: is receiving public assistance because of dependent children in the home but is within one year of no longer being eligible for assistance; or is unemployed or underemployed and is experiencing difficulty in obtaining or upgrading employment; or is at least 40 years of age, an age at which discrimination based on age is likely, and at which entry or reentry or advancement in the labor market is difficult. A survivor of Domestic Violence is also covered under this legislation. Although historically these programs only served women, at this time the programs also serve men. The Displaced Homemaker Programs offer support groups, educational short-term certifications, computer skills, financial management, resume writing, job search, and other related workshops to help individuals become economically self-sufficient.
